WARNING SIGNS

Too long online

Watch out for children spending hours online, night and day and before school.

Unknown contact

Watch out if your child gets phone calls or texts from unknown contacts and at inappropriate times.

Unusual gifts

Notice if gifts arrive in the post or your child has more credits on games than they should have.

Not normal

Notice if your child starts to remove and withdraw themselves from "normal" family activities.

Be suspicious

Keep an eye out to spot potential problems before they become an issue. Look out for tell tale signs above and especially if internet and computing activity is hidden or only done in a private way.
